The Law Librarian

Dear Colleague,

Good day. I hope this letter finds you well.

On this state of online modality in teaching and learning, academic law librarians (ALLs) are challenged to prove their usefulness. ALLs have to look for ways to support their students and faculty in their research needs, and the best way is to upskill themselves in using online platforms that would help them provide better services to their stakeholders.

To address this immediate need, the Network of Academic Law Librarians (NALL), a SEC-registered organization that caters to the needs and progress of academic law libraries and librarians, is inviting you to a webinar entitled Knowing your free resources: accessing, navigating and downloading open-access legal information in the Philippines on 27 August 2020 at 1:00 PM. This webinar aims to (1) introduce open-access legal information sources; (2) teach the participants how to access, navigate and download full-text legal information from open-access websites; and, (3) help the participants improve their collection and services by means of including free resources in their collection.

An e-certificate of participation will be given to all attendees.

Attached is a copy of the program for your reference.

Thank you and hoping for your positive response.

Respectfully yours,

Willian S.A. Frias

President
