Dear Colleague,

Good day. I hope this letter finds you well.

Information literacy is a skill that enables a person to become an independent learner. When he/she becomes an independent learner, nothing can stop him from being a life-long learner. Such is the status that every law student has to achieve – to be an independent and later on a life-long learner. To pave the way for our students to be independent, life-long learners, academic law librarians have to equip themselves with skills in developing a legal information literacy program. A legal information literacy program, once created and implemented, will surely help our law students obtain the said status as learners.

NALL's 2nd installment of its Webinar Series talks about "On to the next level of learning: The basics of Legal Information Literacy." This webinar has the following learning outcomes: 1) ALLs will understand the concept of Legal Information Literacy; 2) ALLs will be able to describe the Legal IL program for their libraries; and, 3) ALLs will be ready to create a legal IL suited to their law schools. This webinar will be held on 17 September 2020 at 1:30 PM, via an exclusive Zoom link.

In this light, we would like to invite academic law librarians in this webinar. Please register here. You shall receive the zoom link after registration. An e-certificate will be given to all participants.

Thank you and hope to see you there.

Respectfully yours,

Willian S.A. Frias

President
